DON'T CHANGE THE MACHINE. CHANGE THE BARREL.

Craft your own Dry Sift.

With the 120-micron stainless steel mesh barrel, the MT Dry 200 LiTE becomes a high-capacity pollen extractor. Same versatility, now with more volume per cycle.

Its hexagonal structure with independent mesh panels allows you to easily replace each one in case of damage, while also providing a rotation movement that ensures flowers hit with just the right force: maximum trichome extraction without damaging the material.

Different micron options available depending on your preferences and productions needs!
